

PROFILE

I am a Seattle visual journalist who favors humor and hustle. Most recently, I've worked for The Seattle Times and SeattlePI.com.

My images have been recognized by the Society of Professional Journalists, NPPA and twice by the AP's Reid Blackburn Memorial Award. I was also part of the Pulitzer Prize-winning Seattle Times team that covered the Oso landslide.

On the job, I've also filed in a port-a-potty, chased pants-less people through the airport, and been hit in the face by an errant basketball.
